

Kerry Bernstein
Principal Engineer
Applied Research Associates, Inc.

Kerry Bernstein recently joined Applied Research Associates, Inc. Previously, Dr. Bernstein was a Senior Technical Staff Member at the IBM T.J. Watson Research Center, Yorktown Hts, NY where he was responsible for future product technology definition, performance and application. Mr. Bernstein received the B.S degree in electrical engineering degree from Washington University in St.Louis, and joined IBM in 1978. He holds 95 US Patents, and is a co-author of 3 college textbooks and multiple papers on high speed / low power CMOS. His interests are in the area of high performance advanced device / circuit technologies and their integration. Mr. Bernstein is an IEEE Fellow. He and his family live in Northern Vermont.